BREEDER TULIPS

Breeders are the unbroken or self colored forms of the old Florist Tulips. Most of the varieties are purple, maroon or terra cotta, they have flowers of enormous size and flower approximately at the same time as the Cottage and Darwin Tulips. These aristocrats of the tulip family with their immense blooms, borne on strong stems, frequently exceeding a height of 40", have recently become the most popular of all the tulips.

All of these varieties may be made to bloom in pots or pans in early March by means of gentle forcing in a moderate temperature and daylight. Only the deepest pots should be used for forcing this type.

They are tall growing and their petals are more open than the Darwins. In forcing, care must be taken to bring them on slowly.

DARWIN TULIPS

We strongly recommend this class of tulips for garden decoration in beds as well as in groups in the herbaceous border and amongst shrubs. Grown for cut-flowers, they prove very valuable at a time when our gardens yield so little for the decoration of our rooms. They bloom during the middle of May, a period when spring flowers are over and those of summer such as roses, have not yet come in. The blooms last in condition a very long time.

By forcing in pots they may be had in bloom in February or even earlier, most of the varieties improving in color by protection under glass or canvas.

PLANTING INSTRUCTIONS— FOR NARCISSUS AND DAFFODILS

In growing Daffodils it is best to prepare the soil at least 12 inches deep. The soil should be prepared very much the same as for Tulips excepting that well rotted manure may be used safely here, care being taken to keep it from coming in direct contact with the bulbs.

Daffodils may be left in the soil over summer but should be dug every 2 or 3 years and divided, then replanted at once or any time until fall. Fall digging is injurious and should be avoided.
